Exam Invigilation

The people present

Only candidates taking the examination(s) and other people authorised (whether orally or in writing) by the Head of Centre are to be allowed in the examination room.

The JCQ Centre Inspection Service also has the right to visit centres during the examinations, and at other appropriate times before and after the examinations, to inspect the arrangements made for the security of examination material and for conducting the examinations.

Question Papers, stationery, materials and other equipment

The invigilator must take all reasonable steps to make sure that the following conditions are met:

- The official examination stationery including additional answer sheets, for the particular subject examination must be issued to candidates. No other stationery, including paper for rough work, can be provided.
- Candidates may take into the examination room only those instruments and materials which are clearly allowed in the instructions on a question paper, the stationery list or the specification for that subject.
- Any pencil cases taken into the examination room must be see-through.
- If unauthorised items have been or are about to be taken into the examination room, those items must be left at the front of the exam room (and not under their desks) before the examination starts.
- Candidates may bring mobile phones or iPods etc into the examination room but these must be turned off and handed in. If candidates have unauthorised items in an examination, this may constitute malpractice and they could be subject to sanctions and penalties in accordance with the relevant JCQ Guidelines.
- In a subject where there is a personalised question paper, and individual pre-printed answer sheets are provided for the candidates, each individual answer sheet or personalised question paper must be given to the candidate whose name appears on it. You should check that the sheets relate to the relevant subject and the component concerned.

Students must not use:

- Blotting paper
- Correcting fluid
- Correcting pens
- Highlighter pens in the answer paper
- Gel pens in the answer paper

Starting the Examination

An examination is treated as in progress from the time the candidates enter the room until all the scripts have been collected.

The JCQ considers the introduction of any unauthorised material into the examination room, by either candidate or staff, as malpractice, and those who have done so may be subject to sanctions and penalties in accordance with the relevant JCQ guidelines. Examples include coaching and subject specific PowerPoint TM presentations.

During the Exam

Supervising the candidates

Invigilators must supervise the candidates throughout the whole time the examination is in progress and give complete attention to this duty at all times.

Invigilators must:

- Give all their attention to conducting the examination properly;
- Be able to observe each candidate in the examination at all times;
- Be familiar with the 'Notice to Candidates', the 'Warning to Candidates' and any specific instructions relating to the subjects being examined.

Invigilators must not:

- Carry out any other task (for example marking or reading), in the examination room.
- Give any information to candidates about possible mistakes in the question paper, unless there is an erratum notice;
- Offer any advice or comment on the work of a candidate.

Leaving the Examination Room

Candidates must stay under supervision until one hour (or a period equal to the length of the examination, if less than one hour) after the starting time shown in the awarding body's final examination timetable.

Candidates who are allowed to leave the examination room temporarily must be accompanied by a member of staff. Those candidates may be allowed at the discretion of the Centre extra time to compensate for their temporary absence.

Candidates leaving the examination room early must hand in their work before they leave the examination room. Those candidates must not be allowed back into the room.

No-one may remove any question paper from the examination room until the end of the examination session in the Centre.

Malpractice

Wherever possible, the invigilator should remove and keep any unauthorised material that a candidate may have in the examination.

The head of Centre must report all cases of suspected or actual malpractice in connection with the examination to the awarding body as soon as possible. The head of Centre has the authority to expel a candidate from the examination room if malpractice may have been committed and in other circumstances if regarded as essential by the head of Centre, but should only do this if it is essential or if a candidate would disrupt other candidates by continuing to be in the examination room.

If candidates have committed malpractice, the awarding body may disqualify them or make them subject to other sanctions and penalties.

Call Exams Officer

The invigilator must take the following action in an emergency such as a fire alarm or a bomb alert:

- Evacuate the examination room in line with the instructions given by the appropriate authority;
- Make sure that all question papers and scripts are left in the examination room;
- Make sure that the candidates are supervised as closely as possible while they are out of the examination room to make sure there is no discussion of the examination;
- Make a note of the time of the interruption and how long it lasted;
- Allow the candidates the full working time set for the examination.

Collecting Scripts

- Collect all scripts before any candidates are allowed to leave the examination room;
- Keep the scripts in tier and number order;
- Check that candidates have used their correct Centre and candidate numbers;
- Give the scripts to the person responsible for sending them to examiners/awarding bodies.

Unused stationery

- Collect all unused stationery in the examination room;
- Check it for any loose sheets which candidates may have missed;
- Return it to the examinations officer.
